Police appeal to public after tip-off success results in two arrests

'Stop the dealers'

POLICE are urging the public to get in touch with them about suspected drug-dealing – after tip-offs resulted in two arrests in the last fortnight.

The first arrest took place on October 23 at around 11am, after a warrant was issued on a property in Haverhill's Abingdon Place.

A 33-year-old man from the Haverhill area was arrested on suspicion of possessing a controlled drug with intent to supply. Some cash, a mobile phone and a white substance believed to be a class A drug were seized from the property.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

The second arrest took place just three days later, on October 26, when a 29-year-old man from London was searched by police at around 3.30pm. He was then arrested on suspicion of possession of a class B drug and possession with intent to supply class A drugs.

Inspector Peter Ferrie, of Haverhill police, said that information received from members of the public had been crucial in making these two arrests. He urged residents to get in touch on 101 if they see anything suspicious. This could be strangers who may have arrived recently from London, or unusual activity at a property.

He added: "If we get good information from the public, we can do an awful lot to crack down on class A drug dealing in Haverhill."

REMEMBRANCE

Remembrance Sunday is celebrated

A PARADE, wreath-laying ceremony and service are all being held in Haverhill this weekend to mark Remembrance Sunday.

The commemoration will begin in the Haverhill Arts Centre car park at 2.15pm, with the Haverhill Royal British Legion marching from there to the cemetery, followed by a civic procession.

At the cemetery, a wreath-laying ceremony will begin at 2.40pm and will be led by the Lord Lieutenant representative, Mr George Vestey, Deputy Lieutenant, the Mayor of St Edmundsbury and the Town Mayor of Haverhill.

This will be followed by the salute as the parade marches to St Mary's Church for the service, which will begin at 3.15pm. Lord Risby will do the reading, and it will be finished at 4.15pm.

ARCHITECTURE

REMEMBERING: The monument in memory of Sir Stephen Soame in St Peter's Church, Little Thurlow

400-year-old tomb gets £12k

A 400-YEAR-OLD monument "of national significance" is being restored – thanks to £12,000 of funding.

The Soame monument in St Peter's Church, Little Thurlow, was built in 1622 in memory of Sir Stephen Soame and his wife. It features effigies of the couple and their 11 children.

Sir Stephen Soame built the original school in Little Thurlow and was responsible for almshouses in the village which stand to this day. He also served as Lord Mayor of London and as a member of parliament.

Rector of the Stourhead Benefice, the Rev Derek Hollis, said about the monument: "Our church architect considers that the monument is of national significance, partly because of its age."

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

Very few churches have monuments this old; Mr Hollis is aware of just one, in a church near Nottingham.

He went on: "Because of its age it's started to deteriorate. Some of the stonework is actually held together by iron brackets, and the ironwork begins to go rusty and those bits come loose."

The monument, Mr Hollis says, needs not just a thorough clean, but parts of it must be taken out and stabilised.

A lead theft several years ago meant that rain leaked into the church and onto the monument, making it deteriorate more quickly. Another lead theft this July meant that the church had even less money to spend on restoring the historic monument.

But the parochial church council is now set to receive grant funding from The All-churches Trust, The Francis Coales Charitable Foundation, The Mercers' Company Charitable Foundation, The Worshipful Company of Weavers, The Leche Trust, The Dulverton Trust, The Cathedral and Church Buildings Division (Churchcare), and The Veneziana Fund.

Although two of the grants are dependent on the work being completed, the total grant money is an impressive £12,000, enough to complete the restoration work.

The work should preserve the monument for posterity.

Mr Hollis said: "Afterwards, we would hope that it was good for another couple of hundred years."

Find out about free music service

HAVERHILL Library will be showcasing its legal free music service, Freegal, by playing music on Saturday.

The service, provided by Suffolk Libraries, allows customers to download music from a catalogue of over six million tracks and keep them forever. You can also stream music for free and transfer downloaded tracks to iTunes. The service is open to anyone who has a Suffolk Libraries card, and Freegal day will be held at libraries across the county.

Sanphra Willmott, manager of Haverhill Library, said: "It's another brilliant service that our customers can access. We're trying to raise the profile of our digital services. We are just trying to encourage ways of accessing arts, culture and literature."

BUSINESS

Poundstretcher set to open before Christmas

OPEN FOR CHRISTMAS: The Co-Op site in Jubilee Walk
Picture: Russell Boughtwood

DISCOUNT store Poundstretcher is still set to open a shop in a disused Co-op in Haverhill – despite initial plans to open in October.

The site of the old Co-operative store in Jubilee Walk, Haverhill, has been empty since December 2011.

In August Poundstretcher announced its intention to open a store on the site in October.

This was followed by the announcement in September that St Edmundsbury Borough Council would be taking control of the site from the Co-Operative group, which previously held the lease.

The council said it would let the site on a short-term lease as well as secure long-term development there for the future of Haverhill.

This week, Cllr Alaric Pugh, St Edmundsbury Borough Council cabinet member for planning and growth said: "I am very happy to confirm that negotiations with Poundstretcher are at an advanced stage."

On Friday, company secretary of Poundstretcher, Martin Collinson, confirmed that the discount store on the site would now be going ahead in early December this year, to have time to start selling before Christmas.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

He said about the delay: "I've never known a store to open exactly when you would originally plan it. Those plans do tend to move."

"There's all sorts of complicating factors. We are opening a number of stores all the time. Clearly for us, we would have liked to open sooner to get a fuller run up to Christmas."

The old Co-Op building is one of the key sites for redevelopment outlined in ONE Haverhill's town centre masterplan. The masterplan, drawn up this year after extensive consultation with members of the public, became an official planning document in September.

Plans for the site outlined in the masterplan include creating a new town square called "Jubilee Place" and a bus interchange in what is now the Jubilee Walk car park outside the building.

A spokesperson for the borough council said about the plans currently being negotiated for the building: "It is a lease that gives the council the flexibility to pursue the visions as set out in the Haverhill masterplan."

Chair of the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce, Paul Donno, said: "It's good that the building's going to be occupied. It's bad that it's been put back. We hope that it's going to be occupied sooner rather than later."

"It might not be the sort of shop that we would commend for that premises but it's the start of work towards the masterplan."

Chair of ONE Haverhill, Sarah Howard, added: "That site is a very important part of the masterplan, however it's good that it's being used."

"There's been some discussion about the quality of the shops in Haverhill. The only way they are going to improve is if people use those shops."

Fallen pilots could join the memorial next year

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

TWO RAF pilots who have been left off a war memorial for three-quarters of a century could finally have their names added to it.

Sergeant Tom English and Pilot Officer John Gurteen were killed in action in 1939 and 1940 respectively.

Sgt English was shot down by enemy forces during an attack on German warships at Wilhelmshaven. PO Gurteen was killed during fighting over south-east England, when his plane crashed onto a house in Hartley, Kent.

Sgt English was married to a Haverhill schoolteacher and PO Gurteen's family lived in the town, but neither soldier is remembered on the Second World War memorial in Haverhill cemetery.

Now the town's branch of the Royal British Legion is fighting to have the men's names added to the memorial.

Alan Bumpstead, secretary of the Haverhill men's branch of the Royal British Legion, said: "Our memorials are a focal point for remembrance. Each year the names being on there are a reminder of our local men and women whose lives were lost in the conflict.

"It's really important that this list is maintained and updated."

The Royal British Legion is working with the cemeteries officer from St Edmundsbury Borough Council and the War Memorials Trust to try to get 75 per cent funding to have the names added to the memorial.

After a successful pre-application, they are pulling together evidence about the two men who lost their lives for a full application in March. If this application for the money is successful, the names would be on the memorial in time for Remembrance Day 2016.

If you would like to find out more about the two men, further details are included in a display about them which is currently at Haverhill Library, or visit the Local History Group at Haverhill Arts Centre.

Plans to level earth by business park

MOUNDS of earth that stand near the Haverhill Business Park could be levelled if a planning application submitted in October is approved by the borough council.

The earth, on either side of Bumpstead Road, has been left there as a result of previous building work. Creating level platforms out of the earth would enable further development.

Social housing is important

AN open letter to Greg Clark, Secretary of State for Communities.

In the letters page of the Daily Telegraph ('Building houses for new millions is the biggest challenge facing Britain', October 31), you boast of your achievements in housebuilding. Let me invite you to Nayland Road, Haverhill, to see how tightly the dwellings are crammed in, to see how little open space there is in the whole of the Clements Estate. The local housing association, Havebury, is about to knock down the garages, take away the parking spaces, usurp their little patch of grass and squeeze in some more housing units. It does this in order to qualify for government grants, and it is doing it in spite of every objection from town, borough and county. Remind me, Mr Clark, who overrides local democracy in order to keep the Chancellor's housing and construction bubble on the rails for a few more months. You do, Mr Clark, you and your civil servants are doing this.

I saw the problem looming as soon as I was elected a county councillor. We put a motion to Suffolk County Council to release at least one brownfield acre of the 30 it owns in the town, with the intention of relieving the pressure on Havebury to meet unrealistic government targets. Everyone voted against, Labour, Conservative, Lib Dem, everyone except the Greens who didn't bother to turn up. You, the Conservatives, have no long-term policy for social housing, it's make-do and mend, and the people who suffer for your short-sightedness are those least able to spare the time to fight their corner.

The root cause is, of course, unprecedented population growth exacerbated by unfettered immigration. Eventually the pressure for development will affect those who always vote for your party, residents of the small towns and villages of Suffolk. They will come to us and ask why we're doing nothing to protect them. We will have to give them the answer one of our unsuccessful local candidates gave a Conservative resident of Kedington who complained to him having realised at last how close the massive new estates will be to his front door: "We can't defend you if you don't vote for us."

Every year England needs to build three towns the size of Ipswich. We can't do it, and even that rate of building would be inadequate. London alone has 200,000 homeless families – families not individuals. We need more doctors, teachers, roads, sewage systems, water works, railways, hospitals, schools. We won't get them. You, Mr Clark, are presiding over a slow-motion train crash. Still, your constituency of Tunbridge Wells will stay green, your voters won't have inappropriate developments thrust upon them by the Secretary of State for Communities, developments such as the 117,000 houses Norfolk and Suffolk are slated to get in the next 11 years. Your seat is safe.

I always say: "Don't blame me, I stood for UKIP," but I still feel guilty that I am unable to defend my people because of the way your government has rigged the rules, degrading local democracy in favour of quangos and faceless, unelected associations. Local government is helpless from top to bottom.

Come along to Nayland Road and I'll show you round. We may be helpless, but the reality of what you are doing might change your mind.

A few of the veterans who served at and flew from the airfield will be attending and cadets from 1451 (Haverhill) Squadron of the Air Training Corps will be on parade.

Rotary Youth Leadership Awards

Haverhill & District Rotary Club were please to be able to participate in the 2015 Rotary Youth Leadership Awards.

The awards are open to young people between the ages of 18 and 26 and are to encourage personal and leadership development. This year 49 candidates descended on Grafham Water for a week of challenging and inspiring activities. These covered core topics such as dealing with the fundamentals of ethics and leadership, communication skills and problem solving and conflict management. The Haverhill club's candidate was Jason Bird of Clare, who was one of six candidates sponsored by Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service with whom he serves as a retained firefighter, and who was mentored by the club. The award was presented to Jason at a recent Rotary Club meeting by Robin Wraight the Rotary district co-ordinator for RYLA and, in addition, Jason also received a certificate for continuing professional development. Jason spoke to the club about his experiences on the course and the benefits that he obtained from it.

The Haverhill club are keen to sponsor candidate in 2016 and are now seeking a suitable applicant. Anyone interested should contact the club's youth services committee Tony Bayley on (01440) 709709.

by Warren Smyth

Ruby's stroke of luck with swim win

A NINE-year-old will get free swimming lessons for life after winning a competition.

anniversary celebrations.

She said: "You can do everything when you go swimming and I like going under the water and looking at everyone's feet. I am OK at swimming but now I can get even better."

Ruby currently swims at Bury St Edmunds Leisure Centre every other month.

She was presented with her prize by chief executive of Abbeycroft Leisure, Warren Smyth, who said: "It was fantastic to present such a confident young lady with a lifetime of swimming lessons."

Rail petition is signed by 3,000

A PETITION to get a railway line opened in Haverhill has amassed nearly 3,000 signatures – and the campaigners are reaching out to more people.

Campaign group Rail Haverhill will push forward with the fight for the rail connection by holding a series of events to inform the public.

The first will be a market stall in the town on Saturday, followed by another stall in December and a meeting in January.

The campaigners will bring their ever growing petition, as well as leaflets and information about the reasons Haverhill would benefit from a train line connecting it to Cambridge.

Chairman of Rail Haverhill Heike Sowa said: "Our main aim at the moment is to get many more members. They can join online, or they can just talk to us on the market stall."

Rail Haverhill has also become affiliated with national

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

voluntary organisation Railfuture.

The affiliation with Railfuture means that Rail Haverhill has access to the organisation's expertise.

Chairman of Railfuture East Anglia Peter Wakefield said: "We have got experience and we have got lots of people from various disciplines who are members, such as engineers who are transport specialists. We have got a fair amount of expertise around the country, which can help get campaigns like Rail Haverhill off the ground."

He added that the Haverhill campaign was a particularly challenging one, because Haverhill's position on the edge of three counties means the petition must be presented to three different local authorities.

Mr Wakefield said: "The struggle with Haverhill and one or two projects we have been involved with on county borders is that it really does mean historically they lose out. Sometimes the major population is in one county and the rural population is in another."

Rail Haverhill needs even more members to do grassroots campaigning work like leafleting and getting more petition signatures. Membership is free.

Ms Sowa said: "We need motivated members who are willing to do some work. Anybody is welcome."

If you are interested you can attend their market stall on Saturday from 9am to 2pm in Haverhill's Market Square. You can also attend their stall during the late night shopping evening in Haverhill on December 4, or their next meeting at the Haverhill Arts Centre at 7pm on January 25.

To find out more or to sign the petition, visit the website railhaverhill.org.uk.

ROAD SAFETY

Crossing campaign a success

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

A PEDESTRIAN crossing which a resident began campaigning for in 2012 should be delivered by the end of the year.

Resident Ron Davies contacted county councillors in October 2012 about a possible pedestrian crossing on the A1307 outside Sainsbury's. He was worried about the safety of the road after seeing a boy almost get run over while crossing from a busy bus stop to the supermarket.

The campaign gained the support of a number of county councillors, including, Ann Gower, Tony Brown, and Mary Evans.

These councillors met to move the project forward around 18 months ago and they all, as well as Cllrs Julian Flood and Tim Marks, put money from their locality budgets towards it.

The crossing was due to be completed in autumn this year, but was postponed due to delays in the design process. Now work will at last start on November 30.

Mr Davies said: "I'm a bit more than disappointed that it's taken this long, but there is light at the end of the tunnel."

Cllr Brown added: "I am obviously really pleased. It has been a bit of a saga over the last 18 months and it took a combined effort from all the county councillors. We are all involved in pushing forward, we're just sorry it hasn't been earlier in the year."

The works are set to take place overnight from 10pm to 6am, to create minimum disruption on the busy 40mph road. The works should take around two to three weeks to complete. At the same time as installing the pedestrian crossing, the contractors will be working on the nearby roundabout outside B&Q.

They will resurface the road around the roundabout and repaint the white lines to make them clearer.

ARTS

'Help me develop a town music scene to rival cities'

A PERFORMER who hopes to turn Haverhill into a music hub to rival Manchester or Birmingham is issuing a rallying call to local musicians.

Tyson Knight, 37, who lives in Parkway, Haverhill, moved to the town two years ago. He has been making music in the town since a road traffic accident put an end to his construction career.

But he is discouraged by the lack of facilities such as a local radio station and recording studios.

He said: "I want to make this my home but I need to be able to access the things I need to survive."

Tyson is starting a campaign to stimulate the urban music scene in the town. He estimates that there are at least 100 talented young people in Haverhill who do not have the resources to develop their skills.

He said: "There're a lot of kids out there who are really, really involved. I know smaller kids in primary school who are looking up to Devlin and Professor Green. I'm trying to be an ambassador and think outside the box."

HANNAH MIRSKY

As a first step, Tyson has set up a Facebook page called "Haverhill Unsigned" for local musicians. He is MCing at a "Haverhill vs Bury St Edmunds" music night called Kalm in Bury St Edmunds after a planned event at the Haverhill Arts Centre fell through.

Nick Keeble, arts and leisure manager at the arts centre, said: "The event booking in September was a private booking and was cancelled by the organiser at a late stage."

"We have had one chat with Tyson and are due to have another one soon. I've seen him recently. He's got an amazing amount of enthusiasm and energy to make something happen."

Tyson, who grew up in Birmingham, said: "I have been involved in the music scenes in Manchester, Birmingham, Bristol, Leeds and others. I can honestly say that Haverhill has the potential to compete with them and give the less fortunate a platform to change their lives for the better."

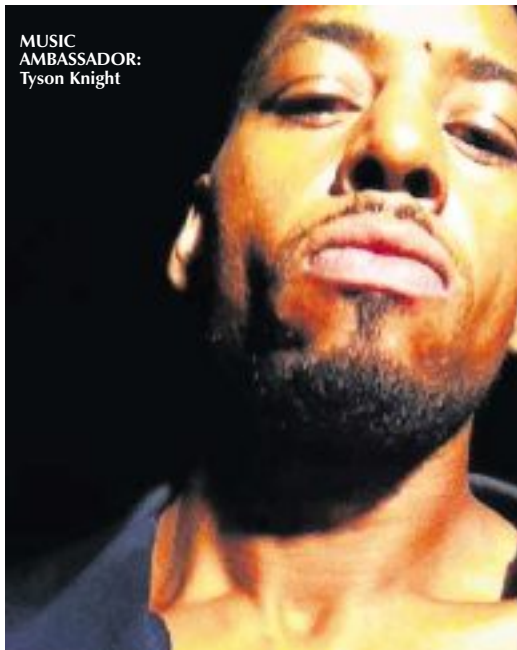

In the long run, he would like to see a physical premises for young musicians in Haverhill as well as an online community.

One possible venue would be the Corn Exchange, which has been derelict for over a decade, but is soon to undergo a structural survey funded by the town council.

If you are a young musician or would like to help Tyson with his campaign, you can contact him on tkombe@icloud.com or find him on Twitter with the handle @tkofficialmc.

Clock is sent for repairs

A NEW town clock has "clocked off" for repairs – within a month of being unveiled.

The Haverhill Victory Clock, which stands in the town's Jubilee Walk, was officially unveiled on October 2.

But when the time came to turn it back an hour on October 25, it emerged that on two of the clock's three faces the hands were not synchronised properly.

The clock faces were taken down on Friday and are being sent to the manufacturers for a speedy repair.

Town clerk Colin Poole confirmed on Friday: "When we put the clocks back an hour last Sunday we noticed that two of them had a problem – the hour hand and minute hand were out of synchronisation, so they couldn't show the right time."

"Today [Friday] they were taken down and are going to have a short trip back to the manufacturer to sort the problem."

The clock was built by Haverhill firm Metcraft Engineering.

Remembering the dark day town lost two brave soldiers

DEARLY LOVED: Trooper Dennis Smith from Haverhill was killed on July 18, 1944, during fierce fighting in France

JULY 18, 1944, was a black day for Haverhill.

Six weeks after landing on Sword Beach during D-Day, two Haverhill men died on the same day and were buried in the same cemetery.

Dennis Reginald Smith, born locally in 1923, was the youngest child of Stanley and Florence Smith. Florence died when Dennis was 12 but the following year his father remarried and he and his second wife Rhoda made their home in Watting Road, calling it Stanrho – the name it still carries.

Dennis was a member of the Home Guard before joining the Royal Armoured Corps, 13th/18th Royal Hussars which was equipped with Sherman tanks.

Albert Robert Barber, (Bob), the son of Albert and Alice Barber, was born in 1915. Bob's mother died when he was aged just 3 but his father married widow Elisa Kimence, a mother of five, so Bob and his two sisters were brought up as part of a large family living at Burton End.

Early in 1940, Bob married Olive Piper in Brentford and they settled in Acton. Olive's mother, Alice (nee Shipp) had been born

In the run-up to Remembrance Sunday, the Haverhill News has been publishing a series of articles which delve into the town's wartime past and explore the history of the people who sacrificed so much. In her final article, Charmian Thompson, of Haverhill's Family History Group, tells the story of two men from the town killed on the same day in France.

in Haverhill so perhaps they met during a visit to maternal relatives. Bob was eventually to join the 2nd Battalion King's Shropshire Light Infantry.

Six weeks after Dennis and Bob landed on French soil, the biggest battle to involve British armour began. With the aim of liberating Caen the 13th/18th Royal Hussars and the 2nd KSLI were embroiled in fierce fighting against divisions from the Western Panzergruppe.

Dennis and Bob were killed on the first day of action – July 18, 1944.

A newspaper bore two reports on August 5:

'Mr & Mrs S Smith received official intimation that their youngest son, Trooper Dennis Smith, was killed in action... on July 18. A subsequent letter has been received from a comrade who states he was with him when he died, with the only consoling news in the sad affair that Dennis suffered no pain. He was within a month of his 21st birthday.'

'The sad news has been received by Mr A Barber, of 50 High Street, that his only son Pte Albert Robert Barber of the KSLI died from wounds received in action on July 18. Pte Barber, who was 28 years of age, leaves a widow to mourn her loss.'

It does not mention that Bob's wife was expecting a child who was born just months after his death – the daughter he was never to see.

Dennis and Bob are both buried in Ranville War Cemetery. Dennis' headstone bears an inscription chosen by the family: 'We loved him dearly but God loved him more'.

Bob's headstone bears the inscription: 'To the world he was one, to us he was the world, wife Olive and daughter, Sandra.'

Stay well this winter: be prepared and protected

A MAJOR drive to help people stay well this winter has been launched by Public Health England and NHS England.

The NHS Stay Well This Winter campaign is urging people age 65 or over, or those with long-term health conditions, such as diabetes, stroke, heart disease or respiratory illness, to prepare for winter with advice on how to ward off common illnesses. The campaign is recommending:

- If you start to feel unwell, even if it's just a cough or a cold, then get help from your pharmacist quickly before it gets more serious.

- Make sure you get your flu jab if eligible.

- Keep yourself warm – heat your home to at least 18 degrees C or (65F) if you can.

- Make sure you get your prescription medicines before pharmacies close on Christmas Eve.

- Always take your prescribed medicines as directed.

The Stay Well This Winter campaign will make sure that people have the information they need to help them look after themselves this winter and also to know the best place to go for urgent advice, whether that's their local pharmacy,

NHS Choices, NHS 111 or A&E.

As in previous years the flu vaccine programme is an important part of this campaign. The adult flu vaccine will be offered free to those in groups at particular risk of infection and complications from flu, including those aged 65 or over, those aged under 65 with long-term health conditions, pregnant women and carers.

This year, for the first time, all our youngest primary school children will be eligible to receive the free nasal spray vaccine, making this the largest school-based vaccination programme in England involving children in 17,000 schools. The children's flu vaccine programme will seek to help over three million 2-6 year olds, as the programme is extended to children in school Years 1 and 2.

YOUR PHARMACIST CAN HELP

WINTER conditions can be seriously bad for our health, especially for people aged 65 or older, and people with long-term conditions.

The cold and damp weather, ice, snow and high winds can all aggravate any existing health problems and make us more vulnerable to illnesses that are more common in winter.

Being cold can raise the risk of increased blood pressure, heart attacks and strokes. But there are lots of things you can do.

Feeling unwell?

Don't wait – get advice from your nearest pharmacist.

Pharmacists are fully qualified to advise you on the best course of action. So go to see a pharmacist as soon as you start to feel unwell.

Is your medicine cabinet ready for the winter?

Most common winter ailments, such as a cold, sore throat, cough, sinusitis or painful middle ear infection (earache), can't be treated with antibiotics.

The best thing to do is:

- Rest
- Drink plenty of fluids
- Have at least one hot meal a day to keep your energy levels up
- Talk to your pharmacist for advice on getting any pain relief you need such as paracetamol or ibuprofen.

Your pharmacist can advise you on which medicines you should have in your cabinet, to help get you and your family through the winter season.

Take medicines as directed.

plete consent forms in order to allow immunisation teams to administer the nasal spray flu vaccine to their children. For those children in areas where the vaccination is not offered through schools, they will be offered the vaccination at their local GP or pharmacy.

Are you 65 or over?

If you feel like you're getting a cough or a cold, get advice from your pharmacist before it gets more serious.

Lead thieves hit 10 church roofs

AN appeal has been launched to raise money for alarms – after 10 churches were targeted by lead thieves in the space of two months.

Churches in Suffolk have had thousands of pounds worth of lead stolen from their roofs since the start of September.

This includes All Saints Church in Hundon, near Haverhill, which had £30,000 worth of lead stolen in mid-September.

Now St Margaret's Church in Newmarket Road, Cowl- inge, has suffered an attempted lead theft. The incident took place between October 23-24.

Thieves had begun to roll up a sheet of lead, but they did not take any away. It is not known what stopped them, as the church has no alarm.

The Rev Brian Singleton, rector of the Bamsfield benefice, which covers Cowlinge, said: "It's pretty terrifying really. We are in a group of seven churches and five of them have lead work. The benefices all around us have experienced substantial damage from lead work being removed.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

"It's all very worrying because this group seem to be able to act silently. They just act with impunity and go where they feel they can get more lead."

West Suffolk MP Matthew Hancock visited Hundon's All Saints Church on Friday to see the extent of the damage. He has written to the Chancellor asking him to prioritise church roofs suffering from lead theft in the Listed Places of Worship Roof Repair Fund.

Mr Hancock said: "It is devastating to see the damage at All Saints Hundon thanks to the lead theft earlier this month. This historic church is at the heart of the village. The roof will cost many thousands to mend, and worse, some of the graves damaged by the lead as it was thrown from the roof can never be fully repaired."

Suffolk Historic Churches Trust have launched an urgent appeal in response to the spate of thefts, with the aim of raising money for church alarm systems.

The presence of an alarm not only acts as a deterrent, but allows the churches to get full insurance for the lead on their roofs.

You can donate to the Alarms for Churches Appeal by visiting <https://www.justgiving.com/suffolkhct/>.

If you see anything suspicious near a church, such as vans or people posing as workmen, call Suffolk Police on 101, or 999 if you think a crime is in progress.

BRAVE: Jordan Hughes, St Nicholas Hospice Care community fundraiser thanks Hannah for her superb donation

Hannah raises charity cash through skydiving

A TEENAGER jumped out of a plane this summer – to raise money for a local charity.

Hannah Martin, 16, who attends Samuel Ward Academy, undertook the terrifying stunt on the Isle of Wight to raise cash for St Nicholas Hospice Care.

She wanted to fundraise for the charity – which runs the Burton Centre in Haverhill's Camps Road – in memory of her great-aunt, who died of cancer last year.

Hannah's great-uncle still attends the hospice's "Open House" support sessions, which take place every Monday.

Hannah visited the hospice last Thursday to present a cheque for £860, which she had raised through sponsorship of her daring skydive.

She raised the money by fundraising with colleagues from the Newmarket Waitrose where she works.

St Nicholas Hospice Care community fundraiser Jordan Hughes said: "Support like this makes a real difference to the hospice. I'm grateful to Hannah for thinking of us and to everyone who sponsored her and helped to raise this fantastic sum."

2016: a year to celebrate

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

HAVERHILL could have a host of events next year to mark special anniversaries in 2016.

The town council's arts and leisure committee discussed the possibility of organising events throughout the year at a meeting on Tuesday night.

The council's arts and leisure manager Nick Keeble said that celebrations for the Queen's 90th birthday in June next year could be similar to those held for the Diamond Jubilee in 2012.

He said: "For the Jubilee, we had a very successful schools project working with choirs and music groups, and they all came together on the stage in Market Square."

As well as musical events, ideas suggested by Mr Keeble included having a street party and working with the Haverhill Family History Group to produce portraits of town residents born in every year of the Queen's life.

Councillors also discussed marking a number of other anniversaries in 2016.

As part of the First World War centenary, the town may mark the 100th anniversary of the Battle of the Somme in July.

Mr Keeble suggested marking a number of significant arts anniversaries which fall in 2016: the 400th anniversary of Shakespeare's death, the 200th anniversary of Charlotte Brontë's birth, the 100th anniversary of Roald Dahl's birth and the 50th anniversary of the first Star Trek episode being shown.

He said that arts events to mark these anniversaries could include workshops and activities. He added: "Rather than a public thing, we could look at actually developing people's interest with some acting and directing classes."

The town council agreed to have Mr Keeble develop a more detailed plan for the Queen's birthday.

They also agreed that the arts centre could employ someone on a short term contract to work on events possibilities and funding for the arts anniversaries in 2016.

sistance of members of the Ladies Section. The idea was originally put forward as an opportunity for local businesses to showcase their wares to members of the Golf Club and visitors alike. It is hoped that the event will also introduce new people to Haverhill Golf Club, not only to potential golfers, but also as a venue for business meetings and private functions. Every Sunday, the Parklands Restaurant runs a very successful carvery which is open to all (booking is required). Chef, Jon Grimwood, has also recently introduced his afternoon cream teas for just £8 person. Gift vouchers will be available for the cream teas and Sunday carvery. There will also be vouchers for golf lessons with our PGA Professionals, Paul Wilby and Ollie Rush, green fee vouchers and a one month trial membership for just £50, which will be available to use within 12

Subaru debuts new Impreza look

THE Subaru Impreza 5-door Concept made its world debut today at the 44th Tokyo Motor Show this week, previewing the design not only of the next-generation Impreza but Subaru's future models as a whole. The concept achieves a higher level of aerodynamic performance while blending form with function, resulting in thoroughly modern styling which hints at how future versions of the car will look.

The Impreza 5-door Concept's sense of quality and modernity is achieved through the choice of a luminous silver as the exterior colour, adding a hint of lustre to the clean, sharp lines of the car. The design study exhibits a wide and low stance, suggestive of the innate stability Subaru is famed for.

Cambridge Subaru is on (01223) 841616.

IMPREZA CONCEPT: The Impreza has always been one of Subaru's most iconic productions

Age UK tots up James Bond's car-nage bill

JAMES Bond wouldn't fit in very well with today's elf'n'safety values, reports Age UK and MORE TH>N Insurance.

Sandra Broadbent of Age UK Cambridgeshire comments: "This year, 007 turned 91 and if not fictional, could be one of the 18 million over-50s that hold a valid driving licence in the UK. While Bond is probably no longer the proud owner of a no claims bonus, Age UK outlines several other things that he, and other later life drivers, should consider when looking at purchasing or updating their car insurance.

"None of us are likely to have ejector seats and voice activated communication systems in our cars like Bond, but, any modifications (performance related or cosmetic), should be declared to your insurer.

This is the case even if the alterations have been made by a previous owner. With this in mind, it may be worth checking the insurance cost of your chosen car before you buy to avoid any nasty surprises.

"If, like Bond, you are lucky enough to be clocking up the miles cruising along the Sardinian coastline, check how your policy changes when you take your car abroad. Most comprehensive policies will drop to third party as soon as you cross the channel so speak to your insurer about extending your cover before you leave.

"Q won't be on hand to replace our cars should something go wrong, so it's important to check the small print of your policy to ensure that a guaranteed courier."

Meanwhile MORE TH>N Insurance has established that Roger

Moore is the most destructive James Bond ever, causing £4.6 billion damage as 007 – including destroying an entire space station.

Daniel Craig stacked up £449 million worth of damages as Bond in the latest installment, Spectre.

The most destruction (£4.3bn) was caused during Moonraker (1979). The least destruction (£419,280) was in Thunderball (1964).

Sean Connery was the most dashing, Pierce Brosnan the deadliest, Timothy Dalton the most serious and Daniel Craig perhaps the 'definitive' Bond, but eyebrows will be raised today by the news that the king of the eyebrow raise himself, Roger Moore, is the most destructive 007 of all time.

Experts at MORE TH>N Insurance have estimated that Roger

Moore has caused an astonishing £4.6 billion worth of damage to vehicles, buildings, artifacts, possessions and the environment during his 12-year career as Bond, which is sure to leave more than just his vodka-martini shaken.

Nowhere is Moore's mayhem more evident than in the 1979 film Moonraker, in which his Bond plays a part in the obliteration of five space shuttles and an entire space station: an estimated £4.1 billion cost that's more wince-inducing than all of Roger Moore's one-liners put together.

According to the findings by MORE TH>N, in the 24 official Bond films, 210 vehicles have been damaged or destroyed, costing £33.9 million.

Spectre is now on general release.

IPT increase will add £12.80 to insurance deals

THE increase in insurance premium tax (IPT) from 6 per cent to 9.5 per cent will raise an extra £386 million a year from motorists, according to a new study.

The RAC – which commissioned the research – said drivers will pay an average of £12.80 more for their insurance policies when the tax rise comes into effect on Sunday.

The motoring organisation warned that young drivers will be hardest hit by the increase.

It found that average premiums for those aged under 26 are £810, with 18-20 year-olds paying £972. The hike in IPT will take their renewals to £838 and £1,006 respectively.

The RAC calculated that a typical driver who fills up a 55-litre car with diesel twice a month will pay around £1,200 a year in overall motoring taxation, including fuel duty, VAT on fuel, vehicle excise duty and IPT.

The body's insurance director, Mark Godfrey, said: "Insurance is – rightly – mandatory for anyone getting behind the wheel.

"The 3.5 per cent hike in IPT is another stealth tax like fuel duty that has unreasonably added to the already considerable contribution made to the Treasury by motorists.

VEHICLE ID CHECK: Scrapped

"With insurance premiums currently going up faster than they have in the last five years, it's sadly going to be a double whammy of bad news for the motorist."

Meanwhile vehicle checks which cost motorists almost £10 million a year have been abolished by the Department for Transport.

Since 2003 drivers who wanted to return a written-off car to the road have needed to apply for a vehicle identity check (VIC) to prove their vehicle matched the registration details.

But the scheme – described by Transport Secretary Patrick McLoughlin as an "unnecessary burden" – has been scrapped.

The VIC was introduced to stop vehicle ringing – where criminals make it easier to sell stolen cars by swapping the identity of vehicles no longer economical to repair with a stolen vehicle of a similar make and model.

The DfT said that during the past 12 years around a million checks have been made, resulting in only a handful of cases of wrongdoing.

Officials believe advances in vehicle security already deter the low-level criminals that the VIC scheme was set up to combat, while the development of online resources allow identification to take place without paper checks.

Detroit EV due

THE first production Detroit Electric SP:01, the lightest and fastest two-seat pure-electric sports car in the world, has rolled off the line at the company's Leamington Spa manufacturing facility. The new SP:01 is destined for one of Detroit Electric's export markets to be delivered to the EV company's first customer.

The lightweight SP:01, which goes on sale in Asia and Europe soon, combines a carbon fibre body with an aluminium chassis. It has a class-leading power to weight ratio and promises blistering acceleration, reaching 60mph from standstill in just 3.7 seconds and sprinting to a top speed of 155mph. Featuring a 285HP/210kW electric motor, the car is fitted with a single-speed automatic transmission as standard, with the option of twin-speed automatic or 6-speed manual transmissions.

Albert Lam, chairman and group CEO of Detroit Electric commented: "We are thrilled to see our first production car roll off the line at our UK manufacturing site." Retail prices for the SP:01 will be announced shortly.

Kemp scores late winner for Rovers

MAKING HIS MARK: Scott Kemp fires in a shot against Saffron Walden
Picture: Haverhill Rovers FC

A DRAMATIC late goal from Scott Kemp gave Haverhill Rovers a 1-0 win over Saffron Walden Town in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division.

Just as in the previous match between the two teams a few weeks beforehand, it took an injury-time winner at the death to separate the two teams, although Rovers made their job harder by missing a penalty in the second half.

For the rest of the 90 minutes, the two teams cancelled each other out as defences were predominantly on top.

Haverhill had the better of the opportunities on this occasion, however, with Ryan Weaver hitting the post early on in one of the best chances of the game.

There were more chances in the second half, with Riki Baker firing over from just three yards shortly after the restart.

Substitute Owen Longley was then brought down by Jamie Solkhon in the area for a penalty in the 68th minute, and Perry Moody – who scored the winner in

Football

September's fixture – stepped up to take it. Unfortunately for the hosts, Moody's effort was well saved by Floyd Croll, and it remained 0-0.

The visitors' cause was not helped when substitute Spike Bell saw red three minutes from time after a bad challenge on Tyler Kemp near the sideline.

But it was four minutes into added time when Rovers finally got the goal they had been striving for.

Rovers won a corner, and the introduction of Marcus Hunt proved to be decisive.

Player-manager Michael Shinn delivered the corner, and a combination of Hunt and Martyn Farrant's heads took the ball towards the far left post.

Scott Kemp, on his debut for Rovers, directed a back header beyond Croll to give his team all three points.

Rovers return to action this weekend when they travel to FC Clacton.

Rugby union

Haverhill juniors take on Harlow

JUNIOR teams from Haverhill Rugby Club travelled to Harlow for a series of friendlies, and enjoyed mixed results.

The under-sevens played four matches back to back, winning three and drawing one.

The under-nines lost their first match but then won two and drew one of their remaining three matches.

The under-11s played against Harlow Mints and Saracens amateur minis, winning three of their four matches.

Hayden Everitt was the star performer, but Angus Duckworth, Ellis Agassi and Alex Baker also played well.

Hockey

Thomas is decisive

KIM Thomas struck to earn Haverhill II a 1-0 victory over Ely II in East Women's League, Division 4NW(S).

But goals from Vicky Steed and Tina Bunch could not prevent the firsts losing 3-2 to Ely in 3NW.
